SOCI 3440: Women and Race in Modern Britain

Course Tutor: Dr Angela Morris (acmorrfd@gmail.com)

The aim of this course is to introduce the major debates and issues surrounding gender and ethnicity in various areas of contemporary life in Britain.

Course Outline

The family
An introduction to feminist theories
Gender and education
Gender and employment
The battle for the vote
Gender, ethnicity and politics
The demographic structure of the minority ethnic population
A history of immigration and contemporary debates
Racism – sociological theory, the Stephen Lawrence case and BLM
Ethnicity, the police and the inner cities
Ethnicity and education
Ethnicity and employment
Ethnicity and the media
Ethnicity and health

The course requires for each student to complete two essays which (along with class discussion, the presentation of tutorials and participation in tutorial discussions) constitute 50 per cent of the overall mark. The remaining 50 per cent will be assessed on the basis of a three-hour examination. Teaching will be based on lectures and tutorials.

Further reading and research list

Wroxton College Library and Online Sources

There is an almost infinite range of online sources to consult in your wider reading and research for this course. Here is a list of websites I find useful, but it is by no means a definitive or exhaustive list.

www.gov.uk The UK government's website, from where all official data and information is accessible www.equalityhumanrights.com The Equality and Human Rights Commission implements the Equality Act and ensures the promotion and upholding of equality and human rights in most of the UK

www.fawcettsociety.org.uk The Fawcett Society promotes gender equality in the UK and has lots of material on how gender and ethnicity intersect in the UK

www.familyandchildcaretrust.org Coram Family and Childcare www.tuc.org.uk Trades Union Congress: contains material on equality and the labour market

www.cbi.org.uk Confederation of British Industry website: contains material on ethnicity and business

www.britishpathe.com A great source for old film clips and archive material

www.lwn.org.uk Labour Women's Network

www.libdemwomen.org.uk Women Liberal Democrats www.women2win.com Women2Win (backs the election of Conservative women candidates)

www.obv.org.uk Operation Black Vote

www.migrationwatchuk.org Migration Watch (a research organization opposed to further inward migration)

www.refugeecouncil.org.uk The Refugee Council (helps immigrants and asylum seekers)

www.runnymedetrust.org A leading British think tank focusing on racial equality www.blacklivesmatter.uk Black Lives Matter UK's site. Contains links to lots of useful and interesting material www.ifs.org.uk Institute for Fiscal Studies think tank with lots of material on the position of ethnic minorities in the UK www.bbc.co.uk One of the best news websites in the World. By law the BBC cannot express political bias (British broadcast media has to be politically neutral).

www.guardian.co.uk A well-respected British newspaper that is free and not behind a paywall. Its political bias is to the political left in the UK

www.universitiesuk.ac.uk Represents the UK universities and contains lots of good data

www.hesa.ac.uk Higher Education Statistics Agency

www.ons.gov.uk Office for National Statistics

www.officeforstudents.org.uk Office for Students

www.ethnicity.ac.uk – CODE (Centre on Dynamics of Ethnicity) research centre

www.irr.org.uk Institute of Race Relations (produces educational research on race relations)

www.kingsfund.org.uk The King's Fund (think tank undertaking research in the healthcare sector)

www.secularism.org.uk The National Secular Society (campaigns against religion in education)

www.obv.org.uk Operation Black Vote

<https://everydaysexism.com> Everyday Sexism Project by Laura Bates

<https://www.parliament.uk/about/living-heritage> The British Parliament's website also has a lot of useful information, some of which can be accessed here

<https://spartacus-educational.com> A massive history education website. You can input quite specific terminology into the search engine. Full of rabbit holes!

Below is a list of some JSTOR articles, ProBooks ebooks central (FDU subscription) and books with some Google Books preview coverage that I think you may find helpful. Again, this list is not definitive.

The books available in Wroxton College's library are listed along with the relevant page or chapter numbers and the index number to help you locate them in the library. If you have any difficulty locating books, or need any library advice speak to Andrew Rose, the college librarian.

Essay Questions

Week 7 – Thursday 4.00pm

Students must submit one essay from both parts of the course (i.e., one on women and one on race). Essays should be approximately 1,500-2,000 words. All essays should be properly referenced (any consistent style is acceptable) with a bibliography.

1. Is the nuclear family 'normal' in Britain today?
2. Assess Laurie and Gershuny's assertion that in Britain we are witnessing a 'long-term and very slow drift towards greater equality in the allocation of domestic work'.
3. Explain why Radical Feminists believe patriarchy is the root of gender inequality and why Marxist Feminists believe capitalism is its source.
4. 'Race and gender may be analytically distinct, but in Black women's everyday lives, they work together' (Patricia Hill Collins). Discuss.
5. To what extent is female education a paradox of marginalisation and success?
6. Explain why there continues to be a significant pay differential between men and women in the labour market.
7. Did militancy further the cause of votes for women?
8. Why may the culture of Parliament, of the political parties and media coverage of female politicians deter women from politics?

Week 12 – Thursday 4.00pm

1. What are the main reasons for immigration controls? Consider how these reasons for control defined Britain's legislative response to immigration from the Aliens Act of 1905 to Brexit in 2016.
2. 'The collective failure of an organisation to provide an appropriate and professional service to people because of their colour, culture or ethnic origin' (The Macpherson report, 1999). Discuss this definition of racism and the events that led to Macpherson's enquiry. How did the law change to take account of this definition of racism?
3. Examine the Black Lives Matter campaign in Britain and explain how the BLM has changed the narrative on racial discrimination in the UK.
4. What is 'Intersectionality' and how does it impact minority ethnic women? Assess the legislative response in the UK.
5. Compare and contrast the causes of rioting in Britain in 1981 and 2011.
6. What factors may stop more ethnic minorities becoming politicians?
7. Account for the position of ethnic minorities in the British labour market.
8. Do minority ethnic children suffer disadvantage in the education system?
9. To what extent is Britain's mainstream media ethnically diverse? Does it fairly and accurately represent its minority ethnic audience?
10. Why, despite having a 'National' Health Service do we have differentials in health outcomes based on ethnicity? Explore how Covid-19 has particularly affected Britain's Black and Asian population.

Notes on the preparation and presentation of essays

- a) You must place the full title of the question you are attempting at the top of the first page. Pages should also be numbered
- b) Essays should be approximately 1,500-2,000 words in length.
- c) Quotations, references to other work and factual assertions should be properly referenced. Any referencing style (e.g. Harvard) is acceptable.
- d) A bibliography, quoting books, websites, e-books, articles etc. used, should be included at the end of the essay.
- e) Work must be handed in by the due date.
- f) Plagiarising either from published printed works, from the internet or from the work of colleagues is not acceptable and an academic offence.

Tips on written work

Keep it relevant. Be careful not to stray from what the question is asking you.

Answer the question logically. Set out the points you wish to make step-by-step, and support each assertion with relevant evidence. Unsupported arguments, however relevant to an essay, cannot be graded as highly as those which are defended by relevant evidence. On the other hand, essays should not constitute a collection of factual statements.

Every argument or assertion you make must be backed by evidence. Every piece of evidence you include must relate to your arguments.

Be cautious to avoid sloppy grammar, poor spelling and long sentences as they detract from even the finest of essays. It is always wise to re-read essays a few times after you have completed them to weed out such mistakes.

Any student with documented medical, psychological or learning disabilities who feels that they need in-class academic adjustments, reasonable modification, and/or auxiliary aids and services while taking this course, should first contact the Disability Support Services (DSS) on their home campus to discuss specific needs.

- FDU Florham Campus students should contact the Director of Disability Support Services at 973-443-8079.
- FDU Metropolitan Campus students should contact the Deputy Campus Executive at 201-692-2477.

Once the academic adjustments, modifications, or auxiliary aids and services are approved by DSS, the College Dean and the Faculty concerned will be notified.
